

Editorial Policy

Mitsubishi Corporation's (MC) Sustainability Report 2006 provides a review of our global business activities from the perspective of sustainable development.

The format of the Special Feature section is carried over from the Sustainability Report 2005. This section focuses on the specific business activities of the company and describes concrete initiatives deemed to be critical from a corporate social responsibility (CSR) perspective. It also describes the company's initiatives to address climate change and to contribute towards a sustainable society.

Emphasis is placed on disclosing the social and environmental performance of MC group companies, which are engaged in a broad range of business activities and industries across the globe. The report attempts to provide a quantitative understanding of the company's impact on society and on the global environment.

It is critical to view sustainability initiatives from the standpoint of the company's global business activities. Accordingly, the report contains expanded content originating from overseas CSR departments, and from reports on stakeholder dialogues conducted in Europe and in the Americas.
