From the President

Mitsubishi Corporation conducts its day-to-day business activities fairly and with integrity in accordance with its corporate philosophy, the “Three Corporate Principles”. I urge all of you to place priority on compliance on a day-to-day basis.

Compliance is a basic premise of our business activities and compliance itself develops our business and increases our corporate value. The standard of compliance that society expects of corporations is rising. Mitsubishi Corporation continues to raise the level of compliance of the entire Mitsubishi Corporation Group and to maintain and strengthen the confidence that we have earned to date.

It is possible to lose the confidence in the entire Mitsubishi Corporation Group, if we get careless or lack the awareness from the viewpoint of compliance. It is most important that each of you (i) views yourself as a compliance officer of the front-line business at all times, and (ii) understands and implements the “Code of Conduct of Mitsubishi Corporation”. Should any issue arise in connection with compliance, you should promptly consult with and report to your superior, compliance officer and the relevant departments in order to address and take care of any issue appropriately. By doing so, we all will lay a solid platform and take the Mitsubishi Corporation Group to new heights.

March, 2006
President and CEO
Yorihiko Kojima
Mitsubishi Corporation Code of Conduct
