1. Message from the Managing Director

Mitsubishi Corporation International \(Europe\) Plc ('MCIE') is a wholly owned subsidiary of Mitsubishi Corporation ('MC'), a global integrated business enterprise that develops and operates businesses across virtually every industry and is headquartered in Tokyo, Japan. Our philosophy is underpinned by the Three Corporate Principles which outline our commitment to integrity, fairness and sustainable business. These principles are enshrined in our corporate DNA and help to guide our everyday actions.

As a company handling a wide range of commodities in ferrous raw materials, and non-ferrous metals including precious metals, we deliver products and services that help support a well-functioning society. But with complex value chains and fragile economies, we also recognise the potential for adverse societal impacts, and we take our responsibility to mitigate these seriously.

As part of the MC Group, MCIE upholds MC's policies and commitments and continue to enhance regional initiatives to respect human rights and eradicate modern slavery from our value chains.

2. About the statement

MCIE has produced this Statement for Fiscal Year 2025 (the period starting from April 1, 2025 and ended March 31, 2026, "FY2025") in line with the requirements of the United Kingdom Modern Slavery Act 2015 ("UK MSA").

This Statement is intended to communicate the steps that MCIE has taken during FY2025 as well as the period between the close of FY2025 and the date of this statement's approval to prevent any occurrence of forced labour and child labour (collectively, "modern slavery") in any part of its business or supply chains.

In recognition that modern slavery can manifest in many ways depending on local circumstances, this Statement covers MCIE's efforts to prevent any form of modern slavery, ensuring that workers are safe throughout its business operations and supply chains, and that relevant laws and international standards are being upheld.

3. Company overview

Based in London, MCIE comprises a Mineral Resources Division and corporate departments, all of which have extensive engagement with their own unique stakeholders as well as other businesses within the MC Group. Our Mineral Resources business handles a wide range of commodities in ferrous raw materials, and non-ferrous metals including precious metals.

MCIE currently has four fully-owned subsidiaries in Germany, Italy, France, and the Netherlands.

4. Relevant policies and commitments

MCIE is committed to respecting human rights and strives to ensure that our business activities do not cause or contribute to adverse human rights impacts, including modern slavery. MCIE shares and follows the following policies of MC, which are also made available to all employees through a number of mediums including our intranet.

MC/MCIE's corporate philosophy is embodied in our Three Corporate Principles: "Corporate Responsibility to Society", "Integrity and Fairness", and "Global Understanding Through Business", which serve as the core principles behind our business and corporate activities.

In our endeavors to continually enhance our compliance initiatives, we have established the Corporate Standards of Conduct as a guideline for corporate actions, developed various compliance-related internal rules and regulations, introduced a compliance officer system, while also expanding and upgrading our global whistleblowing systems as part of our Compliance Framework, and established appropriate internal control systems.

In order to ensure compliance, all employees in MCIE have signed the Mitsubishi Corporation Code of Conduct, which requires employees to conduct business in compliance with local laws and regulations, as well as global standards such as the International Bill of Human Rights established by the United Nations (UN), the Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, and the Declaration on the Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work of the International Labour Organization (ILO). In addition, our employees have also pledged to act in a responsible manner by complying with the higher ethical standards in the conduct of their business.

5. Risk assessment

MC conducts annual supplier assessments (the “Supply Chain Surveys”) for products that are identified to have higher levels of environmental and human rights risks, including modern slavery, to confirm that its policies and guidelines are being upheld.

In selecting products to be monitored, MC evaluates environmental and human rights risks concerning all of its business products, considering a number of international supply chain management declarations and international norms such as the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and prioritises them in terms of the following regarding potential impacts to stakeholders: (1) severity (scale, range, difficulty to make improvements) and (2) probability (procurement country status, industry and region). The products monitored for the survey conducted in FY2025 are as follows:

Paper, LNG, Plastics (PP, PE etc.), Wood (biomass), Copper, Zinc, Coal, Iron Ore, Tyres (natural rubber), Chicken, Pork, Soybeans, Sugar (cane/raw sugar), Shrimp*, Tuna*, Cacao*, Coffee*

*: Tier1 & 2 (From MC's perspective)

MC asks suppliers questions that relate to the specific issues and risks of the products handled by each supplier with a focus on aspects including “existence of policies, compliance with laws and regulations”, “prevention of forced labour, child labour and discrimination towards workers”, “environmental protection” and “information disclosure”. MC has also established its own web system to improve convenience and accessibility for suppliers for this supply chain survey and conducts the survey through this system.

Based on the results of the assessment, MC has incorporated a mechanism to monitor suppliers’ governance and operations, identify high-risk suppliers, and determine whether further surveys or site visits are necessary. If potential or actual adverse impacts are identified, or further improvement is deemed necessary, MC commits to engaging with suppliers to ensure that measures to correct and improve their practices are implemented. If the supplier is unlikely to implement such measures despite the engagement, MC reevaluates its business relationship with the supplier. The level of communication with suppliers achieved through these surveys and site visits provides a valuable opportunity to deepen the suppliers’ understanding of MC’s approach to human rights and sustainability. It also gives MC the opportunity to deepen communication with its suppliers.

For the survey conducted in FY2025 (using results from FY2024) targeting approximately 497 suppliers across about 40 countries and regions, MC received replies from approximately 424 companies. The results of this assessment, including the number of suppliers that MC is communicating with to take necessary measures (including mitigation), have been disclosed to stakeholders via MC's website.

In FY2025, MCIE cooperated with MC in regard to this supply chain survey in the context of identifying applicable suppliers in our Mineral Resources business. It was confirmed that MCIE does not have any transactions in commodities that fall within the designated products monitored for the survey and with specific suppliers of those commodities with which we have transactions on a regular basis.

Separate from this, MCIE also conducted its own, independent analysis. In the previous year, MCIE developed a proprietary survey utilising sources such as MC's Supply Chain Survey and the UK Modern Slavery Assessment as reference material, and prioritised suppliers not registered as LME (London Metal Exchange) brands, given the LME's specific responsible sourcing requirements. This year, MCIE expanded the scope of its assessment to include suppliers not registered with the Aluminium Stewardship Initiative (ASI) and reviewed whether its key suppliers maintain ASI certification or registration status. MCIE will continue to monitor this status and utilise the information obtained to inform future engagement and due diligence activities.

6. Risk mitigation

One of MCIE's key roles is to identify new market opportunities and develop business relationships in the region on behalf of MC. As such, the business opportunities which we develop are screened through MC's due diligence process.

We also recognise that modern slavery can occur close to home. To mitigate risks within our office in London, we use a small number of preferred recruitment agencies who are aware of our recruiting standards. To protect workers against risks of labour exploitation we conduct statutory right to work checks for all new joiners to ensure they have the required documentation to support their right to work status. Furthermore, our employment contract terms and conditions stipulate that an employee's salary must be paid into a UK bank account in their own name. We also contract other third parties such as catering and property maintenance providers. Through annual reviews and regular communication throughout the year, we verify that standards are being upheld for support staff who work on our office premises.

We are also taking steps to mitigate modern slavery risk in our supply chains through voluntary initiatives such as analysis described in section 5 (Risk Assessment) above.

7. Capacity building

In FY2025, we delivered an e-learning course to remind all employees based in the UK of the importance of respect in the workplace, as well as covering topics of supply chain human rights risks and anti-harassment. As an example, the training included practical case studies aimed at helping employees identify potential human rights concerns in the supply chain and understand the appropriate escalation and response procedures.

We have also actively promoted awareness of an “MC European Hotline” which is available to employees in Europe, in addition to the various whistleblowing systems of MC.

8. Looking ahead

MCIE aims to prevent incidents of modern slavery from occurring in our operations and value chains and to cultivate a healthy working environment where people can thrive. Over the coming year, we will continue to collaborate with MC while, at the same time, taking steps to address human rights issues relevant to MCIE’s business.

9. Approval by MCIE’s Board of Directors

I, Tetsuya Shinohara, hereby confirm that the information contained in this Modern Slavery Statement is correct, and that it was approved by MCIE’s Board of Directors at a board meeting on 7th September 2026.
