<Impact on segments>

(Major impacts)

 Automotive & Mobility		In addition to the decrease of vehicle sales due to a significant decline in worldwide automobile demand, decreased earnings from Mitsubishi Motors.	Sharp decrease in demand
 Mineral Resources		Lower metallurgical coal prices due to decreased demand of steel, as a result of stagnant economic activity in Europe, India, Japan, etc.	Stagnant market prices
 Natural Gas		Lower crude oil prices due to decreased demand for petroleum as a result of mobility restrictions and stagnant economic activity. (* There is a half-year time lag until the crude oil price is reflected in results)
 Consumer Industry		Fewer customers in convenience and retail businesses. On the other hand, lifeline-related businesses such as supermarkets (selling daily necessities) are performing solidly.
 Industrial Materials		Stagnant prices of steel products etc. reflecting decreased demand due to the sharp decrease of automobile demands, the stagnant construction/infrastructure market, etc.
 Urban Development		Lower revenues in airport-related and leasing business due to decrease in passengers as a result of mobility restrictions etc. On the other hand, tenant demand for data centers and logistic facilities is solid.
 Petroleum & Chemicals		Lower petroleum and petrochemical product prices due to decreased worldwide demand, in general. However, demand is solid for product groups related to daily necessities.
 Power Solution		Possibility of delays of construction schedule and various negotiations. However, the power business should have limited impact since its earnings is largely based on long-term contracts.
 Food Industry		Lower salmon prices due to decreased demand of dining out in Europe and America. However, limited negative impact by taking in solid demand for meat etc. from at-home consumption.
 Industrial Infrastructure		Lower revenues in the entire segment due to delays of construction and cancelled events. Especially, lower demand in domestic machinery rental business.

[Foreign Exchange, Commodity Prices and Interest Rates]

	Year ended March 2020	Forecast for the year ending March 2021*	Fluctuation	Three months ended June 2020	Consolidated Net Income Sensitivities for the year ending March 2021 [For crude oil and copper price, preliminary sensitivities at this time are shown for reference, since there is a possibility of significant revision due to changes in production levels etc.]
Foreign Exchange (YEN/US$)	108.71	108.00	(0.71)	107.63	Depreciation/appreciation of 1 yen per US$1 has a 1.5 billion yen positive/negative impact on a full-year earnings.
Crude Oil Price (Dubai) (US$/BBL)	65	46 [Jul.-Sep. 2020 : 43]	(19)	62	A US$1 rise/decline per barrel increases/reduces full-year earnings by 2.5 billion yen. To better account for the differences in fiscal year-ends of consolidated companies and the timing when crude oil price is actually reflected in LNG sales price, the average price for the preceding 6 month period (e.g. For the year ending March: average price from Oct. to Sep.) is utilized. In addition to changes in crude oil price, other factors could also affect crude oil-related earnings, such as dividend policy, foreign currency movements, and production/sales volume. Therefore, the impact on earnings cannot be determined by the crude oil price alone.
Copper Price (US$/MT) [US¢/lb]	5,858 [266]	5,864 [266]	+6 [±0]	5,356 [243]	A US$100 rise/decline per MT increases/reduces full-year earnings by 1.3 billion yen (A US¢10 rise/decline per lb increases/reduces full-year earnings by 2.8 billion yen). In addition to changes in copper price, other variables affect earnings from copper mines, such as the grade of mined ore, the status of production operations, and reinvestment plans (capital expenditure). Therefore, the impact on earnings cannot be determined by the copper price alone.
YEN Interest TIBOR 3M (%)	0.07	0.10	+0.03	0.07	The effect of rising interest rates is mostly offset by an increase in operating and investment profits. However, a rapid rise in interest rates could have a temporary negative effect.
US$ Interest LIBOR 3M (%)	2.04	0.50	(1.54)	0.61
