Note: The above forecasts are based on current data available as of the time of this release and certain assumptions that management believes to be reasonable. MC cannot guarantee, however, that performance will unfold as forecast. Actual dividends may differ materially from these statements for various reasons.

2. Reason

In accordance with “Midterm Corporate Strategy 2018”, MC will manage investments and returns to shareholders within the company’s total cash flow. MC is focusing on dividends as the basic approach to returning value to shareholders and on increasing dividend flexibly in line with sustainable earnings growth based on a progressive dividend scheme.

As announced separately today, MC has revised its consolidated net income forecast for the fiscal year ending March 2018 to 540.0 billion yen, and as operating income, excluding one-off gains and losses, in both Business-related and Market-related sectors is steadily increasing, MC now plans to raise its latest forecast for the annual dividend per share by 5 yen from 95 yen to 100 yen.

Accordingly, the forecast year-end dividend is 53 yen per share due to actual interim dividend payment of 47 yen.
