Merger of Subsidiaries in Information and Communication Technology (ICT)

Mitsubishi Corporation (MC) has decided to consolidate two ICT subsidiaries, SIGMAXYZ Inc. and Eupholink Inc. The merger is to take place on August 6, 2008.

MC's Information and Communication Technology Business Division has a strategic plan to become a "Business Organizer of Consolidated IT Services". This covers clients' business issues from consulting services to systems, network, information security and business outsourcing. The aim of this merger is to strengthen the division's consulting functions.

SIGMAXYZ Inc. (MC 51% / RHJ International 49%) was established in May 2008 and is a business consulting company, assisting client firms to create value through ICT.

Eupholink Inc. (wholly-owned by MC) was established in October 2000, and is an integrated consulting company providing business process reengineering and IT services mainly to MC and MC Group Companies.

Under this merger, all employees of Eupholink Inc. will be transferred to SIGMAXYZ Inc. The move will enable MC to maximize its clients' value through ICT as a "Business Solutions Partner".
