A notice regarding the purchase under the Tender Offer will be mailed to the address of the shareholders who have tendered their shares in response to the Tender Offer (the "Tendering Shareholders") or to the address of the shareholders' standing proxies for those residing outside Japan ("Non-Resident Shareholders") without delay after the expiration of the Tender Offer Period. The purchase will be settled in cash, and a tender offer agent will, in accordance with the instructions given by the Tendering Shareholders (or their standing proxies in the case of Non-Resident Shareholders) and without delay on or after the commencement date of settlement, remit the purchase price after deducting the applicable withholding taxes on deemed dividends*¹ to the address designated by the Tendering Shareholders (or their standing proxies in the case of Non-Resident Shareholders).

*1. Tax treatment on shares purchased under the Tender Offer

(Note) For specific tax inquiries, please consult with your certified tax accountant or other tax experts and make your own judgment.

Individual shareholders (Residents and Nonresidents having permanent establishments in Japan)

If the amount of money received for tendering shares in the Tender Offer exceeds the amount of capital of the share-issuing company issuing the Tender Offer (in the case of a consolidated corporation, the amount of its consolidated individual stated capital) which corresponds to the shares that are the basis of the receipt, the excess portion ("Deemed Dividend Amount") will be deemed to be revenue from dividend income.

With regard to the Deemed Dividend Amount, in principle, the amount equivalent to 20.315% (income tax and special reconstruction income tax ("Special Reconstruction Income Tax") under the "Act on Special Measures for Securing Financial Resources Necessary to Implement Measures for Reconstruction from the Great East Japan Earthquake" (Law No. 117 of 2011 includes revisions after this): 15.315%, resident tax: 5%) is withheld (for non-residents in Japan, no resident tax will be withheld). However, if the individual shareholder falls under major shareholders etc. prescribed in Article 4-6-2, Paragraph 12 of the Enforcement Order of the Act on Special Measures Concerning Taxation (Law No.43 of 1957 includes revisions after this), the amount equivalent to 20.42% (income tax and Special Reconstruction Income Tax only) will be withheld. In addition, in principle, the amount of revenue from share-transfer income less the amount of cost for acquiring the shares and other costs is subject to separate self-assessment taxation.

In the case of the application for the Tender Offer with respect to shares of a tax-exempt account prescribed in Article 37-14 of the Act on Special Measures Concerning Taxation (Law No.26 of 1957 includes revisions after that) (provision of tax exemption for transfer income on small amount of listed shares within tax-exempt account), when a financial instruments business operators who establishes such tax-exempt account is SMBC Nikko Securities Inc. transfer income arising from the Tender Offer will be tax exempt, in principle. If the tax-exempt account is established with a financial instruments business operator other than SMBC Nikko Securities Inc., the tax treatment may be different from that described above.

Individual shareholders (Nonresidents having no permanent establishments in Japan)

With regard to the Deemed Dividend Amount, in principle, the amount equivalent to 15.315% (income tax and Special Reconstruction Income Tax) will be withheld. However, if the individual shareholder falls under major shareholders etc., the amount equivalent to 20.42% (income tax and Special Reconstruction Income Tax only) will be withheld.

Corporate shareholders

For the Deemed Dividend Amount, tax is imposed on the amount of actual dividends, and the amount equivalent to 15.315% (income tax and Special Reconstruction Income Tax) of such amount will be withheld, in principle.

2. Results of the Tender Offer

(1) Number of shares purchased
